

Second COVID-19 Case Identified in Delta County, Active Case Count Remains at Zero

For Immediate Release:

June 4, 2020, 10:00 AM, CST

The Delta County Office of Emergency Management was informed by the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) that a resident of Delta County had tested positive for COVID-19. The Delta County Local Health Authority (LHA) and Emergency Management conducted a follow-up on this information and determined this to be a duplicate of a previous case reported in an adjoining county in April. The resident had originally been counted as a positive case in that county due to the current address they reported, but after further investigation, it was determined that their permanent home address was in Delta County. This positive case has been removed from that county's count and added as a positive case to Delta County. This person has recovered and was self-quarantined in the adjoining county during that time. As of today, Delta County has had a total of two positive COVID-19 cases, including this case, and still remains at zero active cases.
